ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

"SECURITIES ACT."

March 6th, 1941.

PURSUANT to the provisions of section 36 of the "Securities Act," being chapter 254 of the "Revised Statutes of British Columbia, 1936," and chapter 69, Statutes of 1937, His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, by Order in Council No. 235, approved on the 6th day of March, 1941, has been pleased to make the following regulations:—

REGULATIONS RESPECTING OIL AND GAS INTERESTS.

1. No broker shall trade in any security which consists of or is based upon oil or gas lands, royalties, leases, any fractional or other interest therein, or which consists of or is based upon any past, present, or future income ascribed to or derived therefrom until trading in the security has been authorized by registration under the "Securities Act."

2. For the purposes of the following requirements:—

(a.) The term "Oil or Gas Interest" shall include "Landowner's Royalty Interest," "Overriding Royalty Interest," "Net Royalty Interest," "Preferred Net Royalty Interest," and "Deferred Net Royalty Interest":

(b.) The term "Trust Agreement" shall mean a contract under which Oil and (or) Gas Interest are created and administered by a Trustee:

(c.) The term "Landowner's Royalty" shall mean a royalty reserved by and payable to the Landowner in fee-simple of the oil and (or) gas rights from a specified tract or well:

(d.) The term "Overriding Royalty" shall mean right of participation in the oil and (or) gas or in the proceeds from the sale of the oil and (or) gas produced from a specified tract or well limited to the terms of an existing lease and not subject to any portion of the expense of development, operation, or maintenance, but subject to prior payment of the Landowner's Royalty:

(e.) The term "Net Royalty" shall mean right of participation, limited to the terms of an existing lease, in the proceeds from the sale of oil and (or) gas produced from a specified tract or well after prior payment of Landowner's Royalty and Overriding Royalty, and after payment of all production equipment, acidization, operating cost, taxes, assessment, and any other deductions authorized by the Trust Agreement under which such right of participation is created:

(f.) The term "Preferred Net Royalty" shall mean prior right of participation, limited to the terms of an existing lease, in the entire net proceeds from the sale of oil and (or) gas produced from a specified tract or well until a certain fixed preferred amount in dollars has been paid to the holders thereof as set out in the Trust Agreement; but such right of participation is subject to prior payment of (a) Landowner's Royalty and Overriding Royalty and (b) all production equipment, acidization, operating cost, taxes, assessment, and any other deductions authorized by the Trust Agreement under which such right of participation is created. After payment of said fixed preferred amount, Preferred Net Royalties rank pari passu with Net Royalties and Deferred Net Royalties in the net proceeds from the sale of oil and (or) gas:

(g.) The term "Deferred Net Royalty" shall mean deferred right of participation, limited to the terms of an existing lease, in the net proceeds from the sale of oil and (or) gas produced from a specified tract of land or well after payment of a certain fixed preferred amount in dollars as set out in the Trust Agreement; but such right of participation is subject to prior payment of (a) Landowner's Royalty and Overriding Royalty and (b) production equipment, acidization, operating cost, taxes, assessment, and any other deductions authorized by the Trust Agreement under which the right of such participation is created. After payment of said fixed preferred amount, Deferred Net Royalties shall rank pari passu with Preferred Net Royalties and Net Royalties in the net proceeds from the sale of oil and (or) gas.

3. Applications for permission to sell oil stocks and royalties pertaining to development within a Province shall be passed upon by the Securities Commission or other body exercising similar jurisdiction within that Province, before authorization is given for public sale by other Provinces. Registration, however, will still be required in any Province in which such securities are to be traded.

4. Oil and (or) gas interest shall be created under a Trust Agreement with a recognized Trust Company acting as Trustee which shall not, directly or indirectly, represent other interests which may conflict with the carrying-out of such agreement; except in the case of Landowner's Royalty and Overriding Royalty, where payment may be made directly to the owners of the royalty by an established and financially responsible company acting as Trustee.

5. Certificates shall define the nature of the Oil and (or) Gas Interest as set out in clause 2.

6. Certificates shall carry full information as to essential details of the Trust Agreement, especially in respect to deductions and all royalty, and (or) other payments ranking prior to disbursements accruing to Oil and Gas Interest covered by such certificate.

7. Wording and form of certificate shall be acceptable to the Securities Commission or other body exercising similar jurisdiction, and the wording shall be standardized as far as possible.

8. Certificates shall be in fractions of not less than one-fortieth of 1 per cent. or multiples thereof.

9. The Trustee shall send to all certificate holders a statement with each cheque, showing total revenue and expenditure for the period covered.

10. When equipment hook-up or other charges in whole or in part constitute a charge prior to payments to holders of Preferred Net Royalties, a statement shall be sent by the Trustee monthly to all registered owners of Preferred Net Royalty certificates stating the amount so owing at date of notification.

11. In the case of Preferred Net Royalty sold prior to completion of the well, the fixed preferred amount in dollars shall be not less than the original offering price to the public.

12. Preferred Net Royalty certificates shall show the amount of preference outstanding per unit of 1 per cent. at the time any transfer is effected.

13. Deferred Net Royalty certificates shall be placed in escrow with a Trust Company and held therein until such time as the well is financed to completion.

14. In the case of a set-up consisting of Oil and (or) Gas Interests only five classifications of such interest shall be allowed, namely, Landowner's Royalty, Overriding Royalty, Preferred Net Royalty, Net Royalty, Deferred Net Royalty.

15. Units of Oil and (or) Gas Interests in any specified tract or well shall total one hundred (100) representing 100 per cent. of Gross Production and in no case shall there be created a larger number of units of any type of Oil and (or) Gas Interests (as herein defined) than the percentage of Gross Production accruing to each such type of Oil and (or) Gas Interest.

16. Where the drilling of a well is financed solely by the sale of Preferred Net Royalties the Landowner's Royalty and Overriding Royalty in total against any well shall not exceed 25 per cent. and the Deferred Royalty shall not represent less than 20 per cent. or more than 25 per cent. of the 100 per cent. of units created against the total production.

17. Overriding Royalties against any well shall not exceed 15 per cent.

18. Operations shall not be commenced until sufficient units have been sold or contracted for by responsible parties to insure that drilling can be carried to the depth recommended in the geological report accepted with the application for registration under the "Securities Act."

19. Oil and (or) Gas Interests sold on the actual drilling-site when such development is in an area not recognized as proven by the Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board of Alberta (or body exercising similar jurisdiction within the Province in which the development takes place) shall contain a provision, acceptable to the Securities Commission, granting to those who invest in such development preferential participation in any subsequent development of adjacent tracts held or controlled, directly or indirectly, by the person, firm, or corporation controlling such development.

20. The proceeds from the sale of Oil and (or) Gas Interests sold for the drilling of a well shall not exceed the sum actually required to complete drilling and the cost of administration as set out in the next following clause (21), plus a commission not exceeding 20 per cent. of the offering price to the public.

21. In the case of operations financed by the sale of Oil and (or) Gas Interests the Trust Agreement shall contain provisions, acceptable to the Securities Commission or other body exercising similar authority, for fixed amounts to cover administration (a) prior to obtaining commercial production, (b) after obtaining such production, (c) for subsequent wells.

22. The terms of a lease of oil and (or) gas rights in a specified tract of land shall be acceptable to the Securities Commission or other body exercising similar jurisdiction. Except where adequate financing is assured, commencement of actual drilling operations shall not be required for at least ninety days after permit for the sale of Oil and (or) Gas Interests has been granted by said Commission or body.

23. Brokers shall not publish conjectures as to the rapidity of pay-out without taking into account both the regulatory measures affecting production and the normal decline in production as illustrated in the record of the district in which the well is located.

24. The following statement must be inserted on the front page of all sales literature and offering sheets pertaining to the sale of Oil and (or) Gas Interests other than producing royalties:—

"This investment must be regarded as speculative and the investor should make sufficient allowance for return of capital prior to any computation of income which may be derived therefrom."

25. Any material which it is proposed to use to induce sales shall be filed with the Securities Commission or other body exercising similar jurisdiction before being used.

26. An Oil and (or) Gas Interest shall be represented as a producing royalty only when:—

(1.) The well is actually in production; and

(2.) Moneys from the sale of gas or oil are being accumulated for—

(a.) Payment for equipment and hook-up costs (the total amount owing to be stated), or

(b.) Distribution to owners of royalty certificates.

27. An offering sheet containing such information as may be prescribed by the Securities Commission or other body exercising similar jurisdiction shall be presented to the prospective purchaser before accepting payment or receiving any security in respect of a trade in an Oil and (or) Gas Interest. When such interest is a producing royalty, such offering sheet shall contain as a minimum the following information:—

28. Notwithstanding the provisions of the foregoing requirements, any person, firm, or corporation may appeal in writing to the Securities Commission, or other body exercising similar jurisdiction, setting out in detail any particular circumstances in a specific case which would in his, her, or its opinion warrant an exemption from any of the terms of such provisions. In such event the Securities Commission or other body exercising similar jurisdiction may consent to such modifications as are considered equitable and proper to meet exceptional circumstances.

29. These regulations shall not apply to oil or gas interests which have been traded in in British Columbia prior to this date.
